Matrimonial Property Discussion Paper

This section examines whether the variation in property settlements demonstrated above reflects the financial provisions of the Family Law Act. Using comparable measures to those used by McDonald in Settling Up (1986a), the extent to which contributions, future needs, and other factors not covered by the financial provisions, contributed to the share received is tested.

Division of matrimonial property in Australia - Question 3 ...

A. I am sorry to hear that your wife has decided that your marriage is over. I note what you say about the fact that the property (which lawyers call the FMH or Former Matrimonial Home) is and always has been in your sole name.

Sources of family law. In Canada, family law is primarily statute-based. The federal government has exclusive jurisdiction over marriage and divorce under section 91(26) of the Constitution Act, 1867. The main piece of federal legislation governing the issues arising upon married spouses' separation and the requirements for divorce is the Divorce Act.

PROPERTY RIGHTS AND THE CONSTITUTION. INTRODUCTION. As part of the constitutional package announced in September 1991, the federal government proposed that the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms be amended to guarantee property rights. This paper provides background information as to why these rights were not earlier included in the Charter.

1. The Constitutions of the Australian States are based on the Westminster model which means that they are the emanation of an English constitutional struggle to establish the supremacy of Parliament. That struggle was not concerned with debates about the separation of powers.

A Paper Concerning Aspects of Federal Jurisdiction

There’s a lot of discussion among family lawyers at the moment about “no fault divorce”, particularly Resolution’s campaign to enable people to divorce without delay and without alleging that the other person in the marriage has been at fault. We’ve alluded to this debate in a previous post and will return to it in more substance another time.
